CLOSEOUT MEMORANDUM

Case Number: I02100028

In October 2002, OIG was contacted for the second time by a graduate student at a University. The student stated that his advisor, who started a small company, had him working on company projects but did not pay him or give him any credit. He also stated that his advisor took his work and was trying to get funding for it without giving him credit for the work or the idea.

Despite numerous attempts to get the necessary information to evaluate the complainant's claim, OIG has not received any documentation to substantiate the allegation.

Accordingly, this case is closed.
